

Local wrestler arrested again for impaired driving

Tuesday, 20 September 2011 00:00

Matt Hardy faces charges of driving while impaired after the professional wrestler was arrested outside Raleigh International Airport. It was his second in less than a month on similar incidents. His most recent run-in with the law occurred after airport police stopped his car after receiving reports of a 2001 Chevrolet Camero swerving through traffic. A breathalyzer test proved negative for the presence of alcohol. A North Carolina Highway Patrol Officer determined Hardy was under the influence of drugs. Hardy is the older brother of Jeff Hardy. The brothers are champion grapplers on the professional wrestling circuit. They live in the Moore County Town Of Cameron.
