

South Street RR crossing in Aberdeen reopened

Saturday, 28 January 2012 00:00

Work has been completed on the upgrades to the South Street railroad crossing. In addition the Town of Aberdeen had the length of South Street repaved all the way to where it intersects with NC Highway 211.

This project was a great example of what good can be created when local governments partner with local businesses to improve our quality of life. The town and the local owned railroad worked hand-in-hand on this extensive upgrade and should be commended for this successful project.

story courtesy of AberdeenTimes.com