

Moore County Airport gets a new director

Thursday, 19 July 2012 00:00

The Moore County Airport has a new executive director. He's Retired Air Force Lieutenant Colonel Steven Borden of Pinehurst, a veteran pilot whose service career spanned 20 years. Since his retirement from the air force in 2008, Borden has been working for Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University as Director Of Academics and Instructor Of Business Administration. The Airport Authority retained the services of Ron Maness and Carol Thomas, who had been serving as Co-Directors of the airport. Maness will serve as a consultant for U-S Open Planning. Thomas will work as a special assistant of grants and contracts.
